

Scents and Subtle Sounds

Phish

If you would only stop to live
One moment at a time
You would I think, be startled by
The things that you would find

Like scents you never noticed
And many subtle sounds
Like colors in the landscape
And textures of the town

And the winds would lift you up
Into the sky above
And you'd be treated to a view
Of everything you love

And if the moment passes
You should try it once again
For if you do it right you'll find
The moment never ends
