

Flashbacks N' Memories

Phoenix Effect

Random fees, youthful ease, busted knees, what are these? These are your trusted keys
And 'cos we gel, pretty well, would you tell? Could you sell? Sell out your lovelies?

(Who are they to blame you?)
(Who are they to name you?)
(All zombies jump on que!)

I Know you'd take on the world
To relive what's just flashbacks and memories in scrapbooks of pleasantries
With your banners unfurled
Fly the colors of yesterdays witty scenes, the dreams
of all wannabes
To remember you need to forget

Voodoo dolls, latest polls, harder falls, on it rolls, rolls like it's on wheels
With no doubt, it's about, getting out, still without, without hurting your loyalties

(Who are they to stop you?)
(You got to do what you got to do)
(Only zombies jump on que!)

I've always known, you'd take on the world
To relive what's just flashbacks and memories in scrapbooks of pleasantries
With your banners unfurled
Fly the colors of yesterdays witty scenes, the dreams
of all wannabes
To remember you need to forget, you need to forget

I Know you'd take on the world
To relive what's just flashbacks and memories in scrapbooks of pleasantries
With your banners unfurled
Fly the colors of yesterdays witty scenes, the dreams
of all wannabes
To remember you need to forget

Who are they to blame you?
Who are they to blame you?
Who are they to blame you?

Who are they to blame you?
Who are they to blame you?
Who are they to blame you?

Who are they to blame you?
Who are they to blame you?
Who are they to blame you?
