

Hey You

Phoenix Effect

Hey you, I got something I wanna tell you
Ain't fat with lies or anything too
I may be a simple man but oh my
You're my sweet butterfly

Hey you, there's this thing I always wanted to do
Concerning me and you
May not be much but I would die
If I didn't, so I've gotta try

Don't need no silver lining
Ain't lookin' for perfect timing
You, you are the light come shining through, oh-oh
Don't need a miracle, thank you
Ain't asking for better news, 'cos you
You are the love come shining through, yeah you

Hey you, what would it take to make you mine?
I got only myself to please your eye
But if the wishing well still overflows
You could be my wild rose

Don't need no silver lining
Ain't lookin' for perfect timing
You, you are the light come shining through, oh-oh
Don't need a miracle, thank you
Ain't asking for better news, 'cos you
You are the love come shining through, hey you

And when the night falls
My sun and moon and stars align up in the sky
And I, I feel like we are one
I know it's corny you say it but it feels just right]

Don't need no silver lining
Ain't lookin' for perfect timing
You, you are the light come shining through, hey you
Don't need a miracle, thank you
Ain't asking for better news, 'cos you
You are the love come shining through, yeah you

Hey you, hey you
