

King See No Evil

Phoenix Effect

Listen dreamy eyes, reality's here
I know you can love, but the price is too dear
To give no quarter is to leave it to fate
To cast the die, to clean the slate

(Confusion becomes paranoia...)

Twilight mourning this reign of denial
Horizons ablaze, speak of the devil
Whispers crying, fear faking a smile
The end of days, King see no evil

Dry your teary eyes, you painted this scream
Viper in hand, you're still asking to dream
In the final hour who would adorn
A house of cards before the storm

(Extinction begets hysteria...)

Twilight mourning this reign of denial
Horizons ablaze, speak of the devil
Whispers crying, fear faking a smile
The end of days, King see no evil

So eat your anger, your viper gander
I know your hunger makes you blind
And it's no wonder when the game is over
You're still nurturing lies to leave behind

(Solo)

Twilight mourning this reign of denial
Horizons ablaze, speak of the devil
Whispers crying, fear faking a smile
The end of days, King see no evil
