

Beautiful Disguise

Picture Me Broken

Who's behind the painted face
The broken child that you can't erase
A sip to hush the sorrow
Heart as empty as your bottle

The last you felt something
From the one who left you bleeding
I know how you feel alone,
Lost in a thousand people

You look so perfect in disguise
I know you're broken up inside tonight...

'Cause I want everything that lies behind
Your beautiful disguise
Tonight, tonight, tonight...
Medicate yourself and hide
To give them all a show tonight
Disguise, disguise, disguise...

I'll breathe in all your sorrow,
Fill your empty space so hollow.
Remove the mask, is all I ask
And I will always follow

You look so perfect in disguise
I know you're broken up inside tonight...

'Cause I want everything that lies behind
Your beautiful disguise
Tonight, tonight, tonight...
Medicate yourself and hide
To give them all a show tonight
Disguise, disguise, disguise...

It's only make believe,
But I believe it, I believe it
You're only make believe
But I believe in you...

I want everything that lies behind
Your beautiful disguise
Medicate yourself and hide
To give them all a show tonight
Disguise, disguise, disguise...
