

Don't Stare

Pilate

This world is paper thin
But it goes on when you give in
With a beauty for the living
Yet this land's been less forgiving
There's a cloud that holds no rain
It just hangs in constant pain
A relentless reminder of what lies on the horizon

There's snow on these hills
The trees by the bank
Lights for the falling
Give you their thanks
Lives on the way
Are breaking my heart
Tell me your ok son

Hey now, don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
And don't stare
And don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
And don't stare
And don't stare

I can still hear her singing now
A small voice my soul devoured
Yet her song is everlasting
Just a tale to ease her passing
Sing it loud my child for me
For I swear I do believe
If I stare after you too long
I'll lose the strength to move on

Snow on these hills

Tell me how far
We've come to find this
Find who we are
The light on the beach
Has broken my heart
Lives on the corner
Crawl

Hey now, don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
And don't stare
And don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
And don't stare
And don't stare

Now don't stare...

Still I search for things to say
Words to canonize these days

Can I ever hope to capture the horror and the rapture?

She fights with her will Crawls through the dark
Laughs at the warnings
Cries when it's hard
Leaving alone
Is breaking your heart
Tell me your're ok
Crawl!

Hey now, hey now,
Hey now don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
And don't stare
And don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
Hey now, don't stare
And don't stare
And don't stare...
