

Into Your Hideout

Pilate

I've made it my dear face it
I'll still kiss the darkness,
What I've wasted I still taste it
I'm sickened and hardened,
I'm gonna tear
I'm gonna tear your walls down
And I stole into your hideout

I walked with you I talked with you
I still can't help thinking,
Your drug's bleeding
So sweet yet fleeting
My memories are sinking,
I'm gonna tear
I'm gonna tear your walls down
And I stole into your hideout
It's cold there now

And everything outside the truth
Does nothing more to cut it loose,
I've left the path the road just disappeared

Grey shadows and white meadows
A bitter snow is falling,
My legs fail me the ground hails me,
Distant lights are calling,
Into your hideout, into your hideout now,
Into your hideout, tearing my heart out now
