

Is it such a crime to be a paradigm
So many people have to think it's just a waste of time
But the truth is, the truth is a lie

It's a sign of the changing times
Kinda feelin' like it's time for me to climb, me to rhyme
While I'm fightin' for the lost in the meantime

I don't be goin' at it part time lookin' for the prime time
People have to think it's just a pastime

We're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
Well there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to change

It's a hard concept to grasp when you're playing with fire
And you keep throwin' on gas
Eventually you'll get burned with a big blast

We stand fast withstanding the whiplash we make it last
And raise our colors to the top of the mast
Because the sands filling fast in the hourglass

So unmask and forget your past stay on path
The world's labeled you as an outcast
Well here's a newsflash you'll never see teeth gnash

We're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
Well there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to change

I feel what's real in my mind inside
I feel what's real in my mind inside

We're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
Well there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to change

We're in the middle of an outbreak
It's no joke just high stakes
You can't escape what seeks you out
You can't escape what seeks you out
Well there's an epidemic goin' on
So be wise and decide to change

There's an epidemic going on
There's an epidemic going on
There's an epidemic going on
There's an epidemic going on
