

Our Escape

Pillar

Somewhere out there, there is somewhere
Somewhere out there, there is somewhere

Why can't we just get away
From the actions of our yesterdays
And everything that's kept us down along our way
How will we make our escape
To a place where we can lead the way
We'll find a way for all of us to run away
And we all will find
What we've been looking for
Leave this all behind
It won't matter anymore

These are the best days of our lives
For us to find
Still the future's shining bright
For you and I tonight
We will spread our wings and fly so high
That we can find our hideaway
We will make it our escape and get away

Why do we all feel the same
As the first time that we played the game
And felt the shame of all the things that came our way
How can we all run away
And find a place where we can stay
And not explain a single thing and still remain
We will all be fine
We are not alone
Don't look back in time
Just let yourself go

These are the best days of our lives
For us to find
Still the future's shining bright
For you and I tonight
We will spread our wings and fly so high
That we can find our hideaway
We will make it our escape and get away

Somewhere out there, there is somewhere
Somewhere out there, there is somewhere
Somewhere out there, there is somewhere
For us to get away
We will find our hideaway
We will make it our escape and get away
We will find our hideaway
We will make it our escape and get away
Just let yourself go

These are the best days of our lives
For us to find
Still the future's shining bright
For you and I tonight
We will spread our wings and fly so high
We will find our hideaway

We will make it our escape and get away
Find our hideaway
We will make it our escape
This is our escape
