

Down with the Sun

Pillow Fight

I'm going down with the Sun, last breath taken
All around I feel fine even if I'm about to die
No more tears no more fears, no more screams no more if
No more smile no more life in my body on the ground

My soul is lost only memories cries of freedom
When you spoke words of Love in my heart was only shadow
I'm still fine no more lies, no more cries, no more screaming
Stop the time show me how I can be the man you wanted

Shall be reborn all that hope you're my safe heaven and my home
And the world is going blind
I need a hand that will lead me to my place and to my friends
and finally I feel alive

All that I swore was broken and I'm sorry
Left to my thoughts, I dreamt of a new and different story
My pain grows as time flows and the boat is slowly drowning
Everyone tries to run but the fate is always hungry

I've never touched an angel in his glory
Feathers fell from her wings she remained all naked
Sitting here I could hear only heart gently beating Stars were far in the sky and two bodies in the dark

Shall be reborn all that hope you're my safe heaven and my home
And the night is going blind
and finally I feel alive

Shall be reborn all that hope you're my safe heaven and my home
And the night is going blind
and finally I feel alive

Shall be reborn all that hope you're my safe heaven and my home
And the the world is going blind
and finally I feel alive
