

Choose the place where you stand
You'd best get comfortable
This might take quite a long time

You will die where you land
Your thoughts are horrible
You will be punished for them

Is there another side to your story
Is there something you're not telling me
I feel the cool water rushing over me
Into the sea, I close my eyes
I dream of all the places that I'd rather be
It's all I have now, it's all I have now

Wait, I'm afraid
Might drift into the forest
I'm afraid your face
Might drift into the forest
Right there

Hey mister professor
Need your machine to go
Way back

Is there another side to your story
Is there something you're not telling me
You know these things work out not best
You're born against, you're ex-infest
Missed that show

I feel the cool water rushing over me
Into the sea, I close my eyes
I dream of all the places that I'd rather be
It's all I have now, it's all I have now
I'm afraid your face
Might drift into the forest
Right there
