

Find Your Soul

Pink Cream 69

Just like a photograph we hold the
World in our hands and it
Seems like a memory but all is coming
Back to me and you
Hear voices in your head, you can't Remember what's been said but if
It can change wrong to right
Then we can turn the dark to light
So

We shouldn't have to walk the lonely road
And we shouldn't have to sacrifice
We shouldn't have to lie and make believe
I believe it's time to find our soul

Before we lost control we had time
To set our goal and if
We must win then some will lose
And it's not just a choice we choose
When we
Take chances, fall from grace, we're
So damn busy just saving face that it's Such a shame what we've become, and
To those fears we have to succumb so

It's just another lesson learned - Oh yeah
But it will - never break you
And nothing can take you down

Hide what you're looking for
Hide what you're looking for
Show no fear

Cuz I know something's breaking
You, oh
Yes I know something's taking you,
Making you, honey
In not too long they'll be faking you,
I believe, I believe, I believe, we have to Find your soul
