

Only the Good

Pink Cream 69

Why am I so frustrated?
Do we live such fragile lives?
It seems I'm only waiting For my soul to breath again
It's been so long since I felt this cold 24 years in the making it makes no sense to suffer or to find a remedy

only the good die young
only the good die young

blinded by my anger, I've been stolen by my pain to justify the reasons and to justify what's been I wondered now live I've wondered then A feeling I've been cheated
So then I feel my soul cry out Should I find a remedy?

calling out for a life calling out for a better day calling out for a celebration everything seems good
