

Jerry was so young and shy he could lie
So he did not try oh yeah
People all around his space laughed at him
At his disgrace oh yeah
When at school the teacher cried wipe that smile
Right of your ugly face

How could she know?

You chose right from wrong
Much too late for a different song
Took his rage and ran inside
Is this his fate?
Could have been a different way
Stop their laughter every day
You chose right from wrong
It's much too late for another song
Who's right or wrong?

Just a story in my mind, it happens every day in life, oh my Then sometimes it could be you, maybe you'll know just what to do
Monday morning went to school, and wipe the smile right off his teacher's face,
What a disgrace, so now he's running away yeah

His chance is gone
Who's right or wrong?
Damned if I know!
