

look around, alone in the cold so mystified did you know the stories they told would pass you by there's a new constitution and it's telling you to change your style would you like a revolution? everybody's got to walk the mile you'll be dying
when you're out on a limb and don't know where to begin feel like you're living a sin cause you're a stranger
you abide by the rules
the ones they taught you at school they make you feel like a fool cause you're a stranger in time there's a twist to the story now we've reached the point of no return one of power one of glory are you gonna let your bridges burn
when you're out on a limb
in time... in time
are you dying?
gonna let your bridges burn you'll be crying
when you're out on a limb
