

Finnisma Di

Pink Martini

In this sweet summer breeze

A shade of your love comes to mind

Forget me not, I give up my light for you

Yet you are far, and I miss you dearly

My younger years have gone in longing

In this solitude the light is gone, & it pains me
Memories of you linger on

Yet you are far, and I miss you dearly

In this sweet summer breeze

I sing a song in the sweetest melody

In this sweet summer breeze,

I long for my own soul

In this foreign land, I hold on to a new life

You remain far, and I miss you no longer

My future begins here, my heart is light with joy
Rays of hope, melodies & love surround me again
Memories of you fade away

But you remain far, & I still do miss you dearly

In this sweet summer breeze

A shade of your love is resurrected

In this melody, I sing of my eternal love for you
