Everything's Fucked

Pitchshifter

Everything's fucked again Well, those are harsh words my friend Just tell me some things never change Just tell me we're 2000

Everything's fucked again But go back to sleep my good friends You don't think they'd ever let us down? You don't think that we'd remember?

Everything's fucked again But don't let it get ya my friends Just tell me it's the first time No Tamagotchi headline

Everything's fucked again? But then what the hell would I know? It's just Millennial dementia Just my stupid magazines

We got nothing to see We got nothing to do We got nothing to take We got nothing to lose

And there's nothing we like And there's nothing we need You got nothing to say 'Cause I'm telling you everything's fucked

Everything's fucked again Well, these are dark days my friend Just tell me all those pretty lies Protect me from the downsized

Everything's fucked again But we'll play out happy to the end We'll all be paid in kind No contributions this time

But don't let it get you down 'Cause we'll put it back the next time Just don't let it get you down
