

Believer

Place Vendome

Someone have said that love is a game
It takes a whole lot to make it giving so much but eating you up inside We set our sails to a new frontier World in the palm of our hands Twisting and turning Hearts were burning Glowing from the heat of the fire

I'm a believer
believe in destiny
I'm a believer
because of your love
I'm a believer
in all things good and bad
I'm a believer
because of your love
'til the end of time

I believe in love

There have been times when both of us cried Sulking in the dead of the night Wondering how life wears you out sometimes But there's a strongest of bonds between you and me Burning in the back of our minds I'll never let go because I know our love will carry on

I'm a believer
believe in destiny
I'm a believer
because of your love
I'm a believer
in all things good and bad
I'm a believer
because of your love
'til the end of time

All because of your love
