

Fragile Ground

Place Vendome

There's a place I hide when you're gone
'Cause you take my heart, my soul
I just can't seem to carry on

I need you to shelter me from the rain
But don't you lie to me
'Cause I know where you've been

You left me standing on fragile ground
Holding onto wasted years
Walking on borrowed time
Now that you are gone
I'm on my way home
Walking on fragile ground
Holding onto wasted years
Now that you are gone

I will walk...

There's a place you hide when I'm gone, yeah...
I broke your heart in two
But I didn't know

That you need me to shelter you from the rain,
Hoping that this memory of you and I remains...

You left me standing on fragile ground
Holding onto wasted years
Walking on borrowed time
Now that you are gone
I'm on my way home
Walking on fragile ground
Holding onto wasted years
Now that you are gone

I will walk, yeah...

You left me standing on fragile ground
Holding onto wasted years
Walking on borrowed time
Now that you are gone
I'm on my way home
Walking on fragile ground
Holding onto wasted years
Now that you are gone
I will walk
Oh, baby, I will walk, yeah
I'm on my way home
