Fuck U

Placebo

There's a look on your face I would like to knock out See the sin in your grin and the shape of your mouth All I want is to see you in terrible pain Though we won't ever meet I'll remember your name

Can't believe you were once just like anyone else Then you grew and became like the devil himself Pray to God I can think of a kind thing to say But I don't think I can So fuck you anyway

You are scum You are scum And I hope that you know That the cracks in your smile are beginning to show Now the world needs to see that it's time you should go There's no light in your eyes and your brain is too slow

Can't believe you were once just like anyone else Then you grew and became like the devil himself Pray to God I can think of a kind thing to say But I don't think I can So fuck you anyway

So fuck you anyway So fuck you anyway So fuck you anyway So fuck you anyway So fuck you anyway

Bet you sleep like a child with your thumb in your mouth I could creep up beside, put a gun in your mouth Makes me sick when I hear all the shit that you say So much crap coming out, it must take you all day

There's a space kept in hell with your name on the seat With a spike in the chair just to make it complete When you look at yourself do you see what I see? If you do, why the fuck are you looking at me?

Why the fuck are you looking at me?

Why the fuck are you looking at me? [x4]

There's a time for us all and I think yours has been Can you please hurry up, 'cause I find you obscene I can't wait for the day that you're never around When that face isn't here and you rot underground

Can't believe you were once just like anyone else Then you grew and became like the devil himself Pray to God I can think of a kind thing to say But I don't think I can So fuck you anyway

So fuck you anyway

So fuck you anyway So fuck you anyway So fuck you anyway.
