

Achilles Heel

Plan Three

Wheels spin, faster
Servant, master
Naked, in your, eyes
You reach out, defenseless
My strongest, weakness
Blindsided, by your smile
My only vice

I thought I'd done my time, but no matter how I try,
In a flash, you got me open wide.
I don't know what is fiction, what is real.
If I just could flip a switch, and not feel.
You're my Achilles heel.

You blow, hot and cold
So much, untold
You're a blessing and a... curse.
Now I walk my own way.
Thought I could handle it, thought I could just play.
I'm losing this war of... nerves.

There's no lesson learned, cause no matter how I try,
In a flash you got me open wide.
I don't know what is fiction, what is real.
If I just could flip a switch, and not feel.
You're my Achilles heel.

There's no lesson learned, cause no matter how I try,
In a flash you got me open wide.
I don't know what is fiction, what is real.
If I just could flip a switch, and not feel.
You're my Achilles heel.
