

Everyday

Planet Funk

Just when I'm thinking it was always you
The sun has gone and let the rain come through
The things I'm hearing I've already heard
But now I'm walking in a different world
Just when I'm feeling like I've made it through
And still had something that they never knew
The artificial is controlling me
And I don't recognise a thing I see

And when it gets too late, I'll be chasing you home
And when it gets too late, I'll be chasing you home

Is this the dawning of a vacant age
I'm turning over to a ripped up page
You look around with every step you take
Cos someone's watching every move you make
Is this the morning we've been waiting for?
You think you're walking through a shining door
You wait for nothing and it never comes
At least you know you're not the only one

And when it gets too late, I'll be chasing you home
And when it gets too late, I'll be chasing you home

Everything I needed
Every day I know

And when it gets too late, I'll be chasing you home
And when it gets too late, I'll be chasing you home
I'll be chasing you home
