Planet P Project

Saw a story in the paper Waiting at the checkout stand 'bout a very special boy And the thousands in his hands Is this just the latest fashion Or is there something there for me Think I'll see Think I'll see I read it in the tea leaves And I've had that dream again I been born again so often But this time I'm sure it's him Could this be the second coming Of the one who makes men free Think I'll see Think I'll see And they say he wears a halo If you get up close to him And they say he'll lead us all out of the Danger that we're in And they say he is the shepherd And we all should follow him Is that him