I'd Rather Be Gone

I gave you my word That I would be yours If you would be mine.

I don't want your love, All of your love Some if the time.

If you give to him what you give to me We might as well end it quietly, And time will tell who's the lucky one.

I'd rather be gone. Walking in the rain Feeling like a fool Who's out of his mind. I'd rather be gone Dealing with the pain Of leaving you behind. Can't you see I'd rather be Gone.

Baby, you and I, we were meant to win But here we are, just a "Could have been". 'Cause half your love, that's not enough for me.

I'd rather be gone. Walking in the rain Feeling like a fool Who's out of his mind. I'd rather be gone Dealing with the pain Of leaving you behind. Can't you see I'd rather be Gone.
