I'm A Pirate You're A Princess

PlayRadioPlay!

Is there a hole in your heart or am I mistaken I can see your capillary veins You be the patient, I'll be the surgeon Just like First grade on the playground all day

And soon enough you'll hear the black top calling for you. After that there is not much else you can do..

I am a pirate, you are a princess We could sail the seven seas Bring back some presents For all the people Everyone will love us, even Courtney will love us

I am a pirate, you are a princess We could sail the seven seas Bring back some presents For all the people Everyone will love us, even Courtney will love us

Have you forgotten your place? I'm being sarcastic That step could kill a bus of kids

We have a good thing (yeah) She is a bad thing Why would she want to break us? Who would want to break us? (yeah)

Soon enough you'll hear the black top calling your name Every day your life will never be the same

I am a pirate you are a princess We could sail the seven seas Bring back some presents For all the people Everyone will love us even Courtney will love us

I am a pirate you are a princess We could sail the seven seas Bring back some presents For all the people Everyone will love us even Courtney will love us

I am a pirate you are a princess We could sail the seven seas Bring back some presents For all the people Everyone will love us even Courtney will love us

I am a pirate you are a princess We could sail the seven seas Bring back some presents For all the people Everyone will love us even Courtney will love us