

Easy Ride

Please the Trees

Would you still love me
If I told you my real name?
Would you still like to marry me
After I introduced you to my wife and kids?
If I had nothing else but love to give?

Would you become my better half
If I left all the spare pieces behind?
If I had no work, no money, no house, no mule, or a car
In which I could take you for an easy ride?

Would you still love me
If I told you my real name?
If I kept coming home on all fours every second night at 3am?
Just for you to see the worst of me
Would you keep on letting me in?

Would you become my better half
If I'd left the spare pieces behind?
If I had no work, no money, no house, no mule or a car
In which I could take you for an easy ride?
