

Solid Ground

Pnau

Sugar sugar, take my hand
My palms are wet, come on let's dance
Open your arms, understand
If you let me be your man and like a flash I'll come aground
Shoot it out and come back down
Shower down like goodness upon
Say I'm ready to give my love

There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you
There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you

Photographs on my bed
It's like a secret dream in my head
So your first time is not like the last
I'm wide open up again
Good times coming back in my life
All of a sudden I'm ready to try
Can you hear me on this night?
No one's standin' out of sight

There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you
There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you
There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you
There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you

Feel the joy, it's overflowing
In the sunlight, in my window

There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you
There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you
There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you
There's too much worth living for, too much worth living for baby
I'll show you

Looks like I got my feet back on solid ground
My head's been stuck in a storm so long
My head's been stuck in a storm so long
My head's been stuck in a storm so long
