

Drink It In

Poco

Some days I feel like
Time's played a joke on me
When I look in the mirror
I thought I'd flame out
Laid in the ground at 33
Wouldn't bet a dime I'd be here

This train's headin' west around the bend
Never gonna turn back to where it's been
Hear the rhythm roll
Watch it all unfold
Big ol' beautiful world
Take the time to sit back and let it spin
And drink it in

Don't need a Bordeaux
Pull the cork and pour me some
Straight from a jug of blue skies
Life used to be a big blur
But it's all twenty-twenty now
Looking down the line with new eyes
