

Here Comes That Girl Again

Poco

Here comes that girl again, sweet as the Southern wind
Dressed in her very best, old lace and calico and

It looks like love's got a hold on me
It looks like love, ooh, got a hold on me

Ribbons of sunlight fall all through her golden hair
Like some uncommon child, I have to stop and stare