

Regret

Poco

So here we are so near so far
with no illusions
only scars
Now you can do
what you always do
write your own version of the truth

Tell me what will you say when it all fades away and what you wanted is what you get Will you say it was fate and there was no escape will you tell me there's no regret

Sometimes it hurts
to see you fall
sometimes it doesn't hurt at all
She builds you up
then tears you down
you go round and round and round

Time and time and time again the song remembers when Why did you and I
let those days go by
