Never said you'd promise anything Never told to trust you blindly Never thought you'd hurt me either Never had a chance Now ain't that so Never should've wept When you let go Never thought You'd push me away Sad as it may be I'm glad it's over finally Speaks volumes of me When letting go is never easy So I'll seek you out Just to find myself And I'll worry 'bout consequences later I hear you out Till I hear myself Hear myself in you Never knew if we were really true Never thought I'd ever get to you Never thought I'd end up like this Never was I stronger than I'm now Never felt this much a fool somehow Never had much thought for myself Sad as it may be I'm glad it's over finally Speaks volumes of me When letting go is never easy So I'll seek you out Just to find myself And I'll worry 'bout consequences later I hear you out Till I hear myself Hear myself in you Never knew if we were really true Never thought I'd ever get to you Never thought I'd end up like this Never said you'd promise anything Never told to trust you blindly

Never thought you'd hurt me either
