

Because You Are

Point Of Grace

Infinite beauty, humbly and faint
In a mortal and breakable body You came
To rescue our souls from the debts they were in
Because of, in spite of, to cover my sins

Master and servant together in one
Come to redeem what our hearts had undone
Saviour of all, come to gather his kin
Because of, in spite of, to cover my sins

Holy, unbreakable, infinite God
Ever unchanging in all that You are
Light of the world and the sun and the stars
You are I am and I am because You are

Shepherd and pastured a wandering sheep
Gave up His life so our own we could keep Soldier in battle for souls He might win
Because of, in spite of, to cover my sins

Holy, unbreakable, infinite God
Ever unchanging in all that You are
Light of the world and the sun and the stars
You are I am and I am because You are

Humbly forsaking His heavenly seat
Beaten, bloodied and washing my feet
Opened our eyes to what loving it means
The blood on my hands is what washes me clean

Holy, unbreakable, infinite God
Ever unchanging in all that You are
Light of the world and the sun and the stars
You are I am and I am because You are

Holy, unbreakable, infinite God
Ever unchanging in all that You are
Light of the world and the sun and the stars
You are I am and I am
You are I am and I am because You are
