

Gone Are The Dark Days

Point Of Grace

Be still my beating heart
Love is whispering Your name
There were years suffering in the dark
Fighting back the tears and pain

But love has kept me safe and sound
Those days that seemed like endless nights cannot be found
They're behind me now

Gone are the dark days
That had me so confused
Now I'm countin' the tender ways
That Your love has broken through

And through these eyes no longer covered
I see love that's like no other love I've ever known

You think I'd know by now
That Your life will light my way
But if I ever start to doubt
And my strength begins to fade

I will be calling out to You
Each day You give, reminds me that Your love is true
And it comes shining through

Gone are the dark days
That had me so confused
Now I'm countin' the tender ways
That Your love has broken through

And through these eyes no longer covered
I see love that's like no other love I've ever known

And as the ages pass
Until I breath my last

I will be calling out to You
Each day You give, reminds me that Your love is true
And it comes shining through

Gone are the dark days
That had me so confused
Now I'm countin' the tender ways
That Your love has broken through

And through these eyes no longer covered
I see love that's like no other love I've ever known

Gone are the dark days, dark days
I saw the light
Gone are the dark days, dark days
I saw the light
Gone are the dark days, dark days
I saw the light
