

Life Love & Other Mysteries

Point Of Grace

You are Lord of life, love and other mysteries
I find in you all I ever need to know
Some say that life is a string of romances
To some it's a series of choices and chances
While some only live for the curious dances
Of whatever music's at hand
And some look for love in the eyes of a stranger
And some love the thrill of the edges of danger
But I have found joy in a world filled with anger
Cause I finally understand

You are Lord of life, love and other mysteries
You know my future, You know my history
I find in you all I ever need to know
About life and love and other mysteries

I cannot reason with men in defiance
Or try to explain all the mysteries of science
'Cause I'm just a child in the face of these giants
But I never face them alone
Because when it seems that my heart is surrounded
When all of our questions of life have been sounded
I rest in the hope where my faith has been grounded
I do not fear the unknown, 'cause

You are Lord of life, love and other mysteries
You know my future, You know my history
I find in you all I ever need to know
About life and love and other mysteries

Your wisdom confounds the wisest of wise
Your mercy is truth in a world full of lies
Your grace saves us all from a certain demise
