

Hole in the Wall

Poison Girls

Looking through a hole in the wall
Staring at someone, could be it's you it's you
The paper's peeling by the mirror so I can see through
Staring at someone, could be it's you it's you

Looking through a hole in the wall
Trying to catch your eye, there where the insects crawl
Why don't you catch my eye, don't you know I'm there at all at all
Trying to catch your eye, there where the insects crawl

Looking through a hole in the wall
Every day children play, there on the other side
Hide and seek, hide and seek; seek and hide, seek and hide
Every day children play, there on the other side

Looking through a hole in the wall
Face to face with someone else's eyeball
Mirror clone, mirror clone, I wait alone alone alone
Face to face with someone else's eyeball

Looking through a hole in the wall
Watching myself through someone else's eyeball
Staring at someone who shouldn't be there at all
Watching myself through someone else's eyeball

Looking through a hole in the wall
