Pull The Trigger

Poisonblack

Your suffering ends, no matter what you do There's no escape, soon it will be through Payback will come, consequence is sealed It won't expire it won't yield

Now don't you try and repent Don't you dare to deceive Cause not a single world you will believe Just go ahead

Everyone waits for you to pull the trigger Everyone's cheering for you The shit you drown yourself in is getting thicker So don't let them down They're all counting on you

You licked them clean, the bones they threw Laughed through the tears while playing the fool Hey, my friend you're gone, in too deep Your sad existence is now theirs to keep

Keep bullshitting them, yourself you can't anymore You know how it ends you know the score So, go ahead
