

Smile

Polemic

Just to make you smile
Want to make your smile looks better
Just to see your eyes
Want to make your eyes wide open
When I am far away from you
Then I will still be thinking of you

Just to hear you voice
Want to listen when you're signing
Just a simple word
Keeps me satisfied when leaving
My home for couple of hours or minutes
Want no more to fight against my feelings

You are the reason why I wrote this reggae song
A happy smile that's waiting until I get back, back home

Want a little more
I can shape for you the heaven
One and only claim
Giving all to make this happen
To see you grow up until that moment
You fly away but it's not the end
