

Anywhere From Here

Polly Paulusma

She left this morning
She left no forwarding card
I watched her pack
And without looking back
She drove out of the yard
"friends are only ghosts," she said
"they fade and fall apart," they never stick around
When the going gets hard-nosed
Strong-boned
Stick impervious
Diamond-stoned
And it's only names that really hurt
take me anywhere from here
I'm not asking
I'll do anything to disappear from here
I don't like thinking that
Maybe something I did was wrong
I didn't understand her
And suddenly she didn't belong people come and go
One day they're here, the next they're gone
Paranoia isn't pretty
But it sure makes you
Strong-boned
Hard-nosed
Unimpressible
Indisposed
So call me the names that really hurt
take me anywhere from here
I'm not asking
I'll do anything to disappear from here
Your life is just a movie
In which you wish we never starred
But right back at the start
I bet there's a scene that makes you
Hard-nosed
Strong-boned
Stick-impervious
Diamond-stoned
And it's only names that really hurt
I'm not asking
I'll do anything to disappear
So take me anywhere from here
