Hiding the shame - a distant memory
I'm so wasted, so ugly
Buried beneath all the compromise
I'm so jaded, frustrated
But I'm alive
I'm alive
It's not enough to be yourself to make amends
It's so messed up to be yourself when you're never, never enoug
Stealing the blame of your reflection
There's no failure, no envy
I've become all that I despise
I'm so faded, devastated
But I'm still alive
I'm alive
It's not enough to be yourself to make amends
It's so messed up to be yourself when you're not enough
It's not enough to be yourself to make amends
It's so messed up to be yourself when you're never, never enoug
You're never enough
How can you save a distant memory?
That's so faded, so wasted
Bury the shame in your reflection
That's so jaded, so wasted
There's nothing to gain
And there's no one to blame.
Just you
I'm so wasted, I'm so ugly
I'm so jaded, I'm frustrated
It's not enough to be yourself to make amends
It's so messed up to be yourself when you're not enough
It's not enough to be yourself to make amends
It's so messed up to be yourself when you're never, never enoug
```

You're never enough
