

Let It Go

Pop Evil

Open your eyes
See through the pain
Remember how we used to be
Before you let it go
Let it go

I remember lying right here with you
Staring up at the night of the summer moon
Planning out the days until the end of our lives
Didn't sleep at all those nights
There was nothing we couldn't do
Nothing left in the world we had to prove
How did we end up like we did
Both alone and tossing in an empty beds

You say our hearts are still aching
But I say it's not too late

Open your eyes
See through the pain
Remember how we used to be
Before you let it go
Because all our wrongs can't be made right
Without you I'm half the man I used to be
You always were the better part of me

There was a time when our glass was full
Than you would push and I would start pull
Spilling every ounce of anything good
If I could take it back I would
Because with you right by my side
You got to admit it was a beautiful ride
Two hearts beat until their broken
And now there's so much still unspoken

It's obvious I'm still breaking
Tell me it's not too late

Open your eyes
See through the pain
Remember how we used to be
Before you let it go
Because all our wrongs can't be made right
Without you I'm half the man I used to be

Before I break
I give you my word
This time I will change
We were always so good together
Won't you let it go
Won't you let it go

Open your eyes
See through the pain
Remember how we used to be
Before you let it go
Because all our wrongs can't be made right

Without you I'm half the man I used to be
You always were the better part of me
