

Shinedown

Pop Evil

A little more than life's been a wasting,
Since you ran away, Nothings changed.
So stick together, it won't last forever.
Why is there so much pain? I can't explain.
This war I fought without you.
It's all in my head, well step aside and succumb.
The last time was free, Yeah...

Give up the times are never gonna change.
I made up my mind, I still feel the same.
Release me from a life full of pain.
Shine down your light on me.

One million short of a billion.
I can't speak if you won't listen.
There's no one, no way I'm falling down without
You here.
Lift off the stain I wear and graph this state of Mind, Yeah.

Give up the times are never gonna change.
I made up my mind, I still feel the same.
Release me from a life full of pain.
Shine down your light on me.

Give up the times are never gonna change.
I made up my mind, I still feel the same
Release me from a life full of pain
Shine down your light on me.
