

Head Up In The Clouds

Powderfinger

Everyday feels the same the bomb keeps ticking 'till the routine breaks Anyway's the same for you break another glass then i come to the rescue

Paint yourself into this picture Wait there for the blast to hit you

Will you come back down, head up in the clouds?

Everday fills in time four red cars in a super good red line Anyway to break on through make another mess and i come to the rescue

If you lay a finger on him He'll scream his lungs out without warning

Will you come back down, head up in the clouds?

First you made me stumble then you made me fall I'm holding up the tumbling walls