

Mothers Eyes

Power Of Dreams

Do you remember always thought you would
Could you forget it I never thought you would Well you talk about it now talking freely sometimes
Don't forget her now; don't forget her now she's gone

Well it's summer I'm living life to the full
I tell myself I'm happy and I'm having fun
But you don't understand cause you never tried
Just forget it now, just forget it now
I regret it ever happened at all

Because I was always told that I always had my

Mother's eyes
I was always told that I always had my mother's eyes
Mother won't you come back again?

You jumped, you jumped, you swam, you swam
You didn't even try
I'm only really certain of the fact that I will die
But did you see it and did you see it all?
Just forget it now, just forget it now
Regret it ever happened at all

Because I was always told that I always had my