Pretty Balanced

my train is going backwards through the station my train is going slow as it can go it's going the direction we were coming i think we should be to-ing but we're from-ing and i fear that we'll never get home my train is going forwards through the station and going at 900 miles an hour and gaining in momentum every second and any minute now we will be wreck-ened and i fear that we'll never

home
