Do you remember when we couldn't put it away?
Do you remember when we couldn't put it away?
Do you remember what the music meant?
Do you remember what the music meant?

Do you remember when we couldn't put it away?
Do you remember when we couldn't put it away?
Do you remember what the music meant?
Do you remember what the music meant?

Life's complications and frustrations
They disappear when the music starts playing
I found a place where it feels alright
I heard a record and it opened my eyes

Do you remember when we couldn't put it away?
Do you remember when we couldn't put it away?
Do you remember what the music meant?
Do you remember what the music meant?

And nothing else matters when I turn it up loud
There was the one definitive moment
Well, did it mean it to you, did it mean it to you?
There was that one definitive moment
When it was something, it was something, it was something new

Life's complications and frustrations
They disappear when the music starts playing
I found a place where it feels alright
I heard a record and it opened my eyes
Did it mean it to you?

Do you remember when we couldn't put away?
Do you remember when we couldn't put it away?
Do you remember what the music meant?
Do you remember what the music meant?

And nothing else matters, yeah nothing else matters
When I turn it up loud
Yeah nothing else matters when I turn it up loud
