

A Heart Without a Home

Pretty Maids

A Heart Without A Home (New Song)

I've been watching from a distance
I see a pain the just won't die
An empty face without expression
I can tell there's a story in your eyes

In the eye of the beholder
From the outside looking in
There's an angel on your shoulder
But the devil's always waiting round
The bend

A heart without a home
The pain of the loneliness inside
We face the world alone
In our search to find our place in line
You've been a victim of temptation
In the twilight of your past
The found the key to your salvation
You found strength and now your Free at last

A heart without a home
The pain of the loneliness inside
We face the world alone
In our search to find our own little
Place in line
But strong' is the will
When you're determined to survive
When you won't make this world let
You scare you
When you see the little light to stay alive
A heart without a home
