

Why so Serious

Pretty Maids

I can't deny the child inside
I got to feel the strong beat of my life still pulsing
Some things in life you can not hide
I don't need prejustice or other people judging me

I can't renounce to what I am
For I am just a man

Who do the things that i do
Live the life I want to
And why does that provoke you
And why so serious

Am I so different to yourself
I've had my misdemeanors did my share of failures
You find me irresponsible
Now what give you the right to question my behavior

You're much too blind to see
It's my reality

I do the things that I do
Live the life I want to
And why does that provoke you
And why so serious
It takes Hell to hold me
And no one can control me
And you don't see what I see
So why so serious

Who do the things that i do
Live the life I want to
And why does that provoke you
And why so serious
