

Everytime It Rains

Primal Fear

Clouds of insecurity obscure me
Assure me
The mist of desperation
Dripping down my skin
The crushing storm will break me
And take me from this state I'm in

Everytime the rain comes calling
I can't stop myself from falling
Into the darkness - into the madness
Of a world devoid of fear and pain
Everytime it rains

The waves of isolation
Crash around me - around me
The loneliness of silence
Echoes in my brain
With shore in sight I'm under
And wonder why I fought in vain

Everytime the rain comes calling
I can't stop myself from falling
Into the darkness - into the madness
Of a world devoid of fear and pain
Everytime it rains
