

Me? It's always me and never seems to go away
Everything I say and do to you is wrong in every way
And I cannot believe anything you say am real
I doing everything I can to prove to you exactly how I feel

And this has got to change, it's must go away
I'm so sick of screaming, sick of fighting with you everyday
So down down baby calm down, you gotta take control now
You gotta watch yourself now, now, now, now, now

Time and time again, always gotta find a way to
To make you happy, try to take you to that special place
Now try, and try to see, try to be just what you need
Never feeling good enough for you, never seeing what you see

So think, before you speak don't, say things that you'll regret
You'll criticize, you'll never realize that things don't come to you like th at
So down down baby, calm down, you gotta take control now
You gotta watch yourself now, now, now, now, now

And then I take it away

You're not the only one who knows me, and makes me feel this way
Not the only one who told me that I'll never change
You're not the only one who showed me a darker side of you
Not the only one who knows me and feels like I do

Play me day by day these little games you play
It's so hard to keep my temper when you fucking call me names
I cannot believe the things you do to me
All I try to do is right by you, and still get blamed for everything

Lets, lets spend the night you'll see, you'll realize
You'll never criticize and things will workout easily
So down down baby, calm down, you gotta take control now
You gotta watch yourself now, now, now, now, now

And then take it away

You're not the only one who knows me, and makes me feel this way
Not the only one who told me that I'll never change
You're not the only one who showed me a darker side of you
Not the only one who knows me and feels like I do

And then I take it away
And then I take it away
And then I take it away

And then I take it away

You're not the only one who knows me, and makes me feel this way
Not the only one who told me that I'll never change
You're not the only one who showed me a darker side of you
Not the only one who knows me and feels like I do

You're not the only one

You're not the only one
You're not the only one

And then I take it away
And then I take it away
And then I take it away
