All The Midnights In The World

Prince

Because I turned my eye toward U
Because I seek your hand
Every other woman envies U
And me, every other man

A massive circle of jealousy Is coming round again Those prickly fingered scallywags That masquerade as friends

Make a promise this very night That they will no longer pose A threat to either 1 of us Then let the chapter close

For all the midnights, in the world This 1 will serve us better
If U choose to be my girl

Like Susan's petals
A wonderful life, the 2 of us shall lead
The children of the future've all the Spiritual food they need

The secrets that the 1s before
With grace, they've come and shown
2gether with love 4 lanother
We shall make them known

With the love and happy days I number the grains of sand Writing 12 times ever more If I could be Ur man

Amethyst and rubies Crystals and black pearls I trade them all, just to spend with U All the midnights, in the world

All the midnights, in the world
